

Contents

1	Introduction: Contract Automation and “Smart Contracts” in Comparative Law	1
2	Contract and Technology from Automatic to Telematic Contracts	3
2.1	Liaisons dangereuses Between Contract and Technology in a Comparative Perspective	3
2.2	Taxonomy from Automatic to Telematic Contracts	8
2.3	Legal Issues and Regulation of Online Exchanges	11
2.4	The Regulatory Framework in the European Union	14
2.5	The Regulatory Framework in the United States	21
	References	23
3	Peculiarities and Regulation of Electronic Bargaining	29
3.1	Formation of the Electronic Contract	29
3.2	Manifestation of Consent and Imputation of the Effects	36
3.3	Complexity of Economic Relations and Contractual Incompleteness	45
3.4	Interpretation and Integration of the Contract	47
3.5	Good Faith and Contractual Contingency	50
3.6	Contract Standardization and Disclosure Obligations	55
3.7	Technology as a Tool and/or Object of the Relationship	59
	References	61
4	Smart Contracts: Legal Issues and First Regulatory Approaches	71
4.1	Distributed Ledger Technologies and Blockchain: Features and Operation	71
4.2	Smart Contracts: Peculiarities, Legal Issues and First Applications	75
4.3	Legal Nature of Smart (Legal) Contracts	84
4.4	Distinction from Other Cases	88

- 4.5 First Regulatory Approaches in Comparative Law 91
- 4.6 Applicable Law and Jurisdiction 95
- 4.7 Profiles of Law & Economics 97
- References 100
- 5 Elements, Pathologies, and Remedies of Smart Contracts 107
 - 5.1 Identity and Capacity of Contracting Parties 107
 - 5.2 Contract Formation and Meeting of the Minds 109
 - 5.3 Intention to Create Legal Relations, Exchange of Promises, and Form of Contract 116
 - 5.4 Interpretation, Integration, and Subsequent Modification 121
 - 5.5 Contract Modularization and Consumer Protection 126
 - 5.6 Automatic Execution, Modifications, and Fulfillment 131
 - 5.7 Withdrawal, Termination, and Rescission of the Contract 136
 - References 139
- 6 Conclusion 143