

CONTENTS

	page
List of figures and tables	ix
Introduction	1
Part I: The perspectives of strategic analysis
1. The “situational” and the “evolutionary” perspectives	5
2. The “objective reality” and the “subjective perspective”	9
3. Strategic analysis: methodological scheme	13
Part II: The strategic map: the regions, the pathway and the objects of analysis
1. The first region of the map: today’s firm	19
1.1. The entrepreneurial idea for today, the current strategic model, and the current operating state of the firm	19
1.2. Quality and implementation effectiveness /efficiency of the strategic model: some synthetic considerations	29
2. The second region of the map: the strategic transformation	33
2.1. The strategic/political-level change	33
2.1.1. The entrepreneurial idea designed today for to- morrow	34
2.1.2. The strategic intent and the future strategic model	44
2.2. The operational-level change	52

	page
2.3. Quality and structural coherence of the strategic intent: some synthetic reflections	58
3. The third region of the map: performance	65
4. The fourth region of the map: corporate governance and internal control system	77
4.1. The role of corporate governance in strategic management	78
4.2. Internal control system and strategic management	86
5. The fifth region of the map: the values and the identity of the firm	91
Book overview	97
References	103
Index	111