

Table of contents

	pag.
Note by the editors	XIX
1
Introduction by Annamaria Poggi	1
Part I
The new European legislature: reflections and comments on the 2024 European Parliament elections
2
The 2024 European elections: old issues for new challenges by Adriana Ciancio	7
1. From the financial crisis to the pandemic and beyond	7
2. A totally unexpected scenario of war and related big matters	10
3. Nothing new under the sun	12
4. The results of 2024 elections and future perspectives	14

3

After the 2024 EP elections, the complexity and arrhythmias of EU parliamentary democracy have become even more evident	17
---	----

by Nicola Lupo

1. The democratic legitimacy of the new European Parliament (EP): the (slight) increase in the electoral turnout	17
2. Winners and losers in the Euro-national parliamentary system	19
3. The dissolution of the French Parliament: clearly no longer “second order elections”	21
4. The confirmation and re-interpretation of the Spitzenkandidaten constitutional convention	24
5. The drawing of the new cordon sanitaire , at the light of the re-articulation of the right-wing political groups	30
6. A more politicized EU form of government, according to consensual dynamics, to be better synchronized with national political-electoral cycles	32

4

The electoral systems for the 2024 renewal of the European Parliament	37
---	----

by Massimo Rubechi

1. The composition of Parliament in the institutional set-up of the European Union (hint)	37
2. The European electoral system	42
3. The common features of the electoral systems of the 27 Member States	45
4. The election of MEPs in Italy	52
5. Overall considerations	55

5

Abstentionism and absence of a European political offer. About the “democratic deficit” of the European Union 57

by Federica Fabrizzi

- 1. The European Parliament as the supreme unitary authority 57
- 2. Abstentionism as a constant trend 61
- 3. The importance of voting methods 63
- 4. Inconsistencies between national political orientations and European political groups. The case of Renew Europe 67
- 5. Brief concluding remarks 70

6

Empty squares, empty billboards, empty dashboards, and semi-empty ballots: the “political” European elections in the global election year 73

by Alessandro Sterpa and Claudia Capasso

- 1. From the billboards in the square to the square of the dashboards 73
- 2. Meta’s “intermediation” activity on social media 77
- 3. The supervision on algorithmic decisions concerning political issues 83
- 4. Do social media platforms deny Europe a political square? 88

7

The European Union’s outside challenges: defence and enlargement 97

by Tanja Cerruti

- 1. The new European Parliament and the outside “challenges” 97
- 2. The security “challenge” and the prospects for a European defence system 99
- 3. European integration in the defence sector 100
 - 3.1. The first steps 100

	pag.
3.2. Towards a common defence	102
3.3. The Treaty of Lisbon	104
3.4. Funding defence	108
4. The European Union and strategic autonomy	109
5. The reaction to the war in Ukraine	113
6. Enlargement's onward march	115
7. Joining the European Union: procedures and requirements	116
8. Ups and downs in the enlargement process and the open questions	120
9. The Western Balkan countries	121
10. Eastward, ever eastward	127
11. The future of defence and enlargement in a constantly evolving Union	132

Part II

Analysis of the European elections in the 27 Member States

8

Trial run for a new Austrian and European systemic equilibrium 137

by Andrea Caravita di Toritto

1. Political and institutional framework	137
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	146
3. The 2019 European elections	148
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	149
5. Electoral results	157
6. Political comments and future scenarios	157

9

The Belgian triple vote: the recurrent search for a compromise 163

by Luca Di Domenico

1. Political and institutional framework 163
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system 166
3. The 2019 European elections 168
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces 169
5. Electoral results 171
 - 5.1. The outcome of the European elections 171
 - 5.2. The results of the federal and regional elections: an over-view 173
6. Political comments and future scenarios 175

10

European elections of 2024 in Bulgaria: a tale of disaffection in the frame of an exhausting political stalemate 177

by Valentina Carlino

1. Political and institutional framework 177
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system 182
3. The 2019 European elections 184
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces 186
5. Electoral results 188
6. Political comments and future scenarios 190

11

Croatia: between national and European elections 193

by Giorgio Bonerba

1. Political and institutional framework 193
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system 197
3. The 2019 European elections 199
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces 200

	pag.
4.1. First act: the Croatian Parliament elections of 17 April	201
4.2. Second act: the EU Parliament electoral campaign	202
5. Electoral results	205
6. Political comments and future scenarios	206

12

Cyprus: a new chance towards European trust	209
---	-----

by Iole Pia Di Ciommo

1. Political and institutional framework	209
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	212
3. The 2019 European elections	214
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	215
5. Electoral results	219
6. Political comments and future scenarios	220

13

The 2024 EP election in Czechia: a fine line between hard and soft euroscepticism	223
---	-----

by Giulia Santomauro

1. Political and institutional framework	223
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	227
3. The 2019 European elections	230
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	231
5. Electoral results	234
6. Political comments and future scenarios	236

14

The 2024 elections of the European Parliament in Denmark	239
--	-----

by Luisa Giurato

1. Political and institutional framework	239
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	245

	pag.
3. The 2019 European elections	246
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	247
5. Electoral results	249
6. Political comments and future scenarios	250

15

European elections in Estonia. Political framework, institutional structure, and digital voting programs by Luca Cavalli	253
--	-----

1. Political and institutional framework	253
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	260
3. The 2019 European elections	262
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	264
5. Electoral results	268
6. Political comments and future scenarios	269

16

Finland's participation in the 2024 European elections by Giulia Renzi	273
--	-----

1. Political and institutional framework	273
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	278
3. The 2019 European elections	280
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	282
5. Electoral results	283
6. Political comments and future scenarios	285

17

The 2024 European election in France: continuity and innovation amid domestic and international turmoil by Giacomo Delledonne	287
---	-----

1. Political and institutional framework	287
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	292

	pag.
3. The 2019 European elections	294
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	295
5. Electoral results	301
6. Political comments and future scenarios	304

18

Germany on the European ballot: an announced shock and the risk of losing identity	307
--	-----

by Andrea De Petris

1. Political and institutional framework	307
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	309
3. The 2019 European elections	312
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	314
5. Electoral results	320
6. Political comments and future scenarios	328

19

Another turn or the same prospects? The Greek European elections of 2024	337
--	-----

by Chiara Arruzzoli

1. Political and institutional framework	337
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	342
3. The 2019 European elections	343
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	344
5. Electoral results	347
6. Political comments and future scenarios	348

20

Hungary and the perfect storm: European Parliament elections and financial conditionality linked to rule of law violations	351
--	-----

by Sergio Spatola

1. Political and institutional framework	351
--	-----

	pag.
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	355
3. The 2019 European elections	358
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	359
5. Electoral results	365
6. Political comments and future scenarios	367

21

In 2024 European Parliament elections Ireland chose stability and renewed support for government coalition	369
by Emanuele Gabriele

1. Political and institutional framework	369
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	376
3. The 2019 European elections	377
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	378
5. Electoral results	380
6. Political comments and future scenarios	383

22

Electing European Parliament in Italy: legal issues and political outcomes in the 2024 vote	387
by Federico Savastano

1. Political and institutional framework	387
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	396
3. The 2019 European elections	399
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	401
5. Electoral results	407
6. Political comments and future scenarios	410

23

Institutional affairs and political dynamics in Latvia for the 2024 European elections 415

by Giuliano Costa

1. Political and institutional framework 415
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system 420
3. The 2019 European elections 423
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces 424
5. Electoral results 431
6. Political comments and future scenarios 433

24

Lithuania on the European vote in 2024: geopolitical tensions and instances of cohesion 437

by Domenico Bruno

1. Political and institutional framework 437
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system 443
3. The 2019 European elections 445
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces 447
5. Electoral results 450
6. Political comments and future scenarios 453

25

Luxembourg and the European elections: preliminary perspectives 457

by Ylenia Guerra

1. Political and institutional framework 457
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system 463
3. The 2019 European elections 464
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces in 2024 466
5. Electoral results 467
6. Political comments and future scenarios 470

26

Maltese citizens on the European and local vote: intense competition and marked polarisation 473

by Eleonora Iannario

1. Political and institutional framework 473
 - 1.1. Malta's independence from the United Kingdom 476
 - 1.2. Form of state and form of government in Malta 478
 - 1.3. The Partit Laburista and the Partit Nazzjonalista 479
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system 480
3. The 2019 European elections 484
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces 486
 - 4.1. The MEIN and its impact at the European level 491
5. Electoral results 495
6. Political comments and future scenarios 497
 - 6.1. European elections in tandem with local council elections:
influences stemming from a Euro-national parliamentary system 497
 - 6.2. The STV mechanism: what consequences? 501

27

The European elections in the Netherlands: a result with lights and shadows 505

by Simone Barbareschi

1. Political and institutional framework 505
 - 1.1. The Dutch system of political parties 513
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system 519
3. The 2019 European elections 521
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces 522
5. Electoral results 523
6. Political comments and future scenarios 524

28

Some enduring elements to read the “Polish question” and its impact on the European integration process 527

by Francesco Severa

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 1. Political and institutional framework | 527 |
| 1.1. A new political cycle, still reversible | 531 |
| 1.2. The structural dimension of “illiberal deviation” in Poland | 533 |
| 1.3. The “illiberal deviation” in the context of European integration | 536 |
| 1.4. The paradoxical judicial nature of the guarantee of European homogeneity | 538 |
| 1.5. The European vocation of Poland | 541 |
| 2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system | 542 |
| 3. The 2019 European elections | 544 |
| 4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces in the European campaign 2024 | 545 |
| 5. Electoral results | 547 |
| 6. Political comments and future scenarios | 549 |

29

Portugal on the ballot for the 2024 European elections: nationalist turn or return to the past? 553

by Stefano Aru and Lorenzo Moroni

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 1. Political and institutional framework | 553 |
| 2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system | 557 |
| 3. The 2019 European elections | 561 |
| 4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces | 564 |
| 5. Electoral results | 568 |
| 6. Political comments and future scenarios | 570 |

30

The European elections in Romania in the “one-year electoral marathon”. The ruling coalition and the rise of Euroscepticism	573
---	-----

by Adriano Dirri

1. Political and institutional framework	573
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	579
3. The 2019 European elections	580
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	581
5. Electoral results	585
6. Political comments and future scenarios	589

31

The constitutional framework of Slovakia and the European elections	593
---	-----

by Paolo Bonini

1. Political and institutional framework	593
1.1. The form of government in Slovakia	595
1.2. The Slovak party system	597
1.3. The dynamic of the political system	602
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	606
3. The 2019 European elections	606
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	607
5. Electoral results	609
6. Political comments and future scenarios	610

32

From a “textbook” example of democratic transition to political fragmentation: Slovenia in the EU elections arena	613
---	-----

by Giulia Vasino

1. Political and institutional framework	613
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	618
3. The 2019 European elections	620
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	622

	pag.
5. Electoral results	625
6. Political comments and future scenarios	626

33

The challenge of the European elections in Spain: between autonomist claims and national governmental stability	629
by Rosa Iannaccone

1. Political and institutional framework	629
1.1. The role of the independence parties in the formation of the new Sánchez government	631
1.2. Brief outline of the characteristics of the Spanish parlia- mentary monarchy	635
1.3. An unfinished type of State	638
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	642
2.1. The evolution of the European Parliament	643
2.2. Spain and the European construction: reviewing previous electoral rounds	645
3. The 2019 European elections	647
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	649
5. Electoral results	651
6. Political comments and future scenarios	652

34

Sweden and the European elections 2024. Great expectations and big delusions for the far-right	655
by Francesca Caleca

1. Political and institutional framework	655
2. Parliamentary seats and electoral system	660
3. The 2019 European elections	661
4. Electoral campaign and competing political forces	662
5. Electoral results	665
6. Political comments and future scenarios	666

About the Authors	669
--------------------------	-----